CERTIFICATE

REEF-FRIENDLY COSMETIC PRODUCT

POSITIVE CERTIFICATION

BIORIUS has performed a Reef-Friendly Cosmetic Product certification for the product "Huile bronzante roucou SPF50+" (LIBA-0003), produced by Ligne St Barth.

According to BIORIUS Standards, a product can be certified Reef-Friendly and bear the BIORIUS Reef-Friendly logo on its packaging if the below mentioned criteria are met:

-  Formulated without sunscreen ingredients toxic to coral reef:
 - Oxybenzone (Benzophenone-3)
 - Octinoxate (Octyl Methoxycinnamate)
 - Octocrylene
 - 4-Methylbenzylidene Camphor
 - PABA derivatives (e.g. Ethylhexyl Dimethyl PABA and PEG-25 PABA)
 - Octisalate (Ethylhexyl Salicylate)
 - Homosalate
 - Avobenzone (Butyl Methoxydibenzoylmethane)
-  Formulated without preservatives and additives toxic to coral reef:
 - Parabens
 - Phthalates
 - Triclosan
 - Microplastics
-  Formulated without Cyclopentasiloxane (D5)
-  Formulated without nanomaterials
-  Water-resistant (sunscreen only)

BIORIUS, on the basis of the foregoing elements and on its internal criteria, certifies that the product "Huile bronzante roucou SPF50+" (LIBA-0003), does comply with the BIORIUS "Reef-Friendly" certification and therefore it can bear BIORIUS' Reef-Friendly logo.

REEF-FRIENDLY COSMETIC PRODUCT CERTIFICATE

This certification has been established based on the information and research made from the literature up to this date. Should any information come up to light regarding environmental, sea, or reef-toxicity or concern, leading to changes in the BIORIUS criteria, then the present Certificate might be no longer valid and the claim "Reef-Friendly" might be no longer covered by the present certificate.

Moreover, this certificate has been established based on the composition and raw materials information supplied by the Client to this date. Should any of the raw materials be replaced or the composition be modified, then the present Certificate is no longer valid and the claim "Reef-Friendly" will no longer be covered by the present certificate.
